

Advanced Photoshop celebrates 50th issue with 50-artist tribute

Special edition cover brings together artwork from 50 top Photoshop artists

Advanced Photoshop releases its 50th issue this month, with a special process collectable cover consisting of 50 bespoke cover designs from expert artists.

The 50-cover artwork is part of an extended feature where professional Photoshop artists supplied an image to use on an Advanced Photoshop cover. Each artist gave their reasons for why their image makes a stunning cover, giving a unique insight into the cutting-edge work that professional digital artists are creating today.

Readers also get to enjoy 50 killer Photoshop tips provided by industry experts, where they share their advice for creating better images and working smarter in Photoshop; a look at the history and future of Photoshop; the first part of an in-depth guide to the new Photoshop CS4 software and a mix of high-end, inspirational tutorials.

“This is our most ambitious issue yet, with over 100 artists providing us with inspirational artwork, expert advice and in-depth tutorials,” said Deputy Editor, Julie Easton. “The whole team has worked really hard to bring together this feature-packed issue. The many relationships that we’ve built up with artists while working on this issue has strengthened our scope to publish even more professional tutorials and industry-standard imagery in the future.”

“The Advanced Photoshop team prides themselves on showcasing the hottest Photoshop trends and giving readers the tools needed to create professional-level imagery at home,” said Editor in Chief, Jo Cole. “The 50th issue really exemplifies this, packing a phenomenal amount of artwork, tutorials and features into the pages. We very much look forward to reporting on how artists and Photoshop develop over the next 50 issues.”
